

Task One

Write out the alphabet (I know it seems an easy exercise but will be helpful in task 2 as it will stop you from missing a letter)

Task Two

You need to create a scene in which each new line of dialogue (new person speaking) starts with the next letter in the alphabet. (You don't need to worry about this for stage directions)

I would like you to do this for the following three situations

Situation One: Two police officers interviewing someone suspected of murder

Situation Two: First contact with alien life.

Situation Three: Two people stuck on a desert island.

E.g. This example is a start for situation three.

Bob and Alan are lying washed up on a beach. Bob comes too, first and moves over to Alan.

Bob: Alan, wake up!

Alan suddenly sits up

Alan: Bob? You're alive!

Bob: Can't keep a good man down. How are you doing?

Alan: Damn head hurts like mad, but I seem to be in one piece. Anyone else make it out?

Bob: Everyone else is dead, Alan. I think we're the only survivors.
